

Postoffice Station 23; Western Union Telegraph; Store Closes 5 P. M., Sat. 6

Miller & Rhoads

Now's the Time to Buy

White Dresses!

To-day we will inaugurate a great two-day sale of this season's newest, most fashionable novelties in White Dresses for women and misses, for which prices have been VERY GREATLY REDUCED.

$5.00 to $7.98 Dresses, $3.95

Beautiful Dresses of lingerie, organdie and crepe, comprising a number of different styles, lace and other trimmings. WONDERFUL BARGAINS.

$5.98 to $10.00 Dresses, $5.00

Forty Dresses of popular crepe, plain and fancy styles of organdie and lingerie, pure white and some with touches of color.

$12.98 to $16.50 Dresses, $10.00

Fifty handsome Dresses of fine, sheer crepes, newest designs, including some of our regular lines; others are broken sizes.

OTHER WHITE DRESSES, $15.00 AND $18.75 similarly reduced in prices, are.....
Be sure and see these offerings if you wish a dainty White Dress and something EXTRAORDINARY IN VALUE! Second Floor.

A Reminder

Of Our Big Sale of Women's and Misses' Washable Dresses

Cool, dainty frocks of crepe, lawn and various other materials in the season's popular styles and colors.
$1.98, $4.98 and $8.75 for Dresses that originally were $5.00 to $22.50. On sale in the Woman's Garment Section on the Second Floor.

25c Russian Ettamine, 11c Yard

WHITE GOODS DEPARTMENT.

We have only about 400 yards of this popular white fabric to sell at this VERY LOW PRICE.

It has stripes about 1 1/2 inches apart that are very dainty, and the medium weight makes it an excellent fabric for either skirts or suits. SEE IT!

YARD-WIDE CREPES—Corded and plain weaves for suits and skirts, usual 25c quality, 15c for, per yard.....
ALSO PLAIN CREPES—the usual 17c quality, for 11c per yard..... First Floor.

POLLARD AND BRYAN TO SPEAK AT URBANNA

Middlesex Metropolis to Have Great Celebration To-Morrow Night.

CRUISE FROM WASHINGTON

Attorney-General to Speak in Lancaster and Elsewhere in Behalf of State-Wide Prohibition—Subject of Bryan's Speech Not Announced.

Attorney-General John Garland Pollard and Secretary of State William Jennings Bryan are scheduled to make addresses to-morrow evening before a gathering of citizens at Urbanna, Middlesex County. The Attorney-General will leave Richmond to-day for Washington, where he will join the Secretary of State and accompany him on his trip from the capital to the Virginia towns.

The party will leave Washington to-morrow morning and will go by yacht down the Potomac River, then up the Rappahannock River to Urbanna. The cruise will occupy the greater part of the day. Urbanna is the home of the Virginia State Game Warden, where he will make a brief speech. Mr. Bryan's subject has not yet been announced.

A meeting of the Baptist Association, now in session at Urbanna, will adjourn just prior to the arrival of the yacht from Washington.

From Urbanna the party will go to Wharton Grove, Lancaster County, where he will speak on "State-wide Prohibition" and is scheduled to make several other speeches before returning home.

SECURED LICENSE

W. C. Dudley, of Martinsville, Added to List of Successful Applicants.
Dr. J. N. Barney, of Fredericksburg, secretary of the State Board of Medical Examiners, announced yesterday that the name of W. C. Dudley, of Martinsville, had been omitted from the list of successful applicants for license to practice medicine, as announced on Monday. Mr. Dudley passed the State board examination and is now a full-fledged doctor, his name having been omitted on account of the late return of marks by certain of the examiners who had his papers in charge.

Calls on Governor Stuart.

Colonel Joseph W. Ambrose, ambassador to Spain, spent an hour in the Capitol building yesterday. Colonel Ambrose called first at the Governor's office, where he chatted with Governor Stuart a few minutes, then met his old friends in other State offices. He will go to New York before the end of the week, sailing thence for Madrid.

Wells Called to Washington.

Jake Wells, head of the theatrical circuit bearing his name, was called to Washington by the death of his mother-in-law. She had been ill some time, and was in a hospital for the purpose of undergoing a surgical operation, when a sudden change for the worse came, from which she never rallied.

Chamber Directors to Meet.

Several matters of important business will come up for discussion at the meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce to be held at 4:30 o'clock to-morrow. A full attendance at the meeting is urged.

COMMITTEE SYSTEM ABOLISHED BY BOARD

Will Hereafter Allow No One Member Special Executive Authority.

RULES FOR DEPARTMENT HEADS

Committee of Two to Report Plan for Complete Reorganization of Water Department—Has Been Under Discussion for Some Months.

The Administrative Board yesterday adopted a motion abolishing the committee system of doing business, which has been followed since the practice was adopted in September, 1913. After the board will act upon all matters as a committee of the whole, delegating to no member special powers of supervision over one or more departments not enjoyed by the other members.

The abolition of the committee system was foreshadowed last week, when several members of the board stated publicly that they were opposed to its continuance. Objections against the plan were made by the board yesterday to centralize political power in the hands of the members assigned to the supervision of departments, and that it resulted in no additional dispatch of business. The system had been in operation since the board was organized, and yesterday's action formally abolished it as an administrative practice.

NEW RULES AS TO DEPARTMENT HEADS

With the motion abolishing the committee system the board adopted these rules:
The heads of departments having requests to be presented to the board, or other business to transact, are instructed to appear before the board in person, or address the board in writing—not the individual members. That all communications concerning the departments under their supervision or applications for work or places, to be considered by the board, be addressed to the board as such and not to individual members thereof.

That the only exceptions to be allowed from these rules shall be in the case of emergencies demanding immediate action, and only on condition that the individual member of the board acting assume the responsibility for the action taken, and report to the board in session at the next meeting.

The board adopted a resolution authorizing the chairman to appoint a special committee of two to investigate and report with their recommendations the departments under the jurisdiction of the Water Department. Chairman Whittey announced that the committee, composed of Messrs. Carter, McCarty and Henry P. Beck will be appointed.

The members were chary yesterday about describing the extent of the proposed reorganization. A recasting of the departments under the jurisdiction of the board has been discussed by the board before, and it is believed that a genuine reorganization movement is now under way.

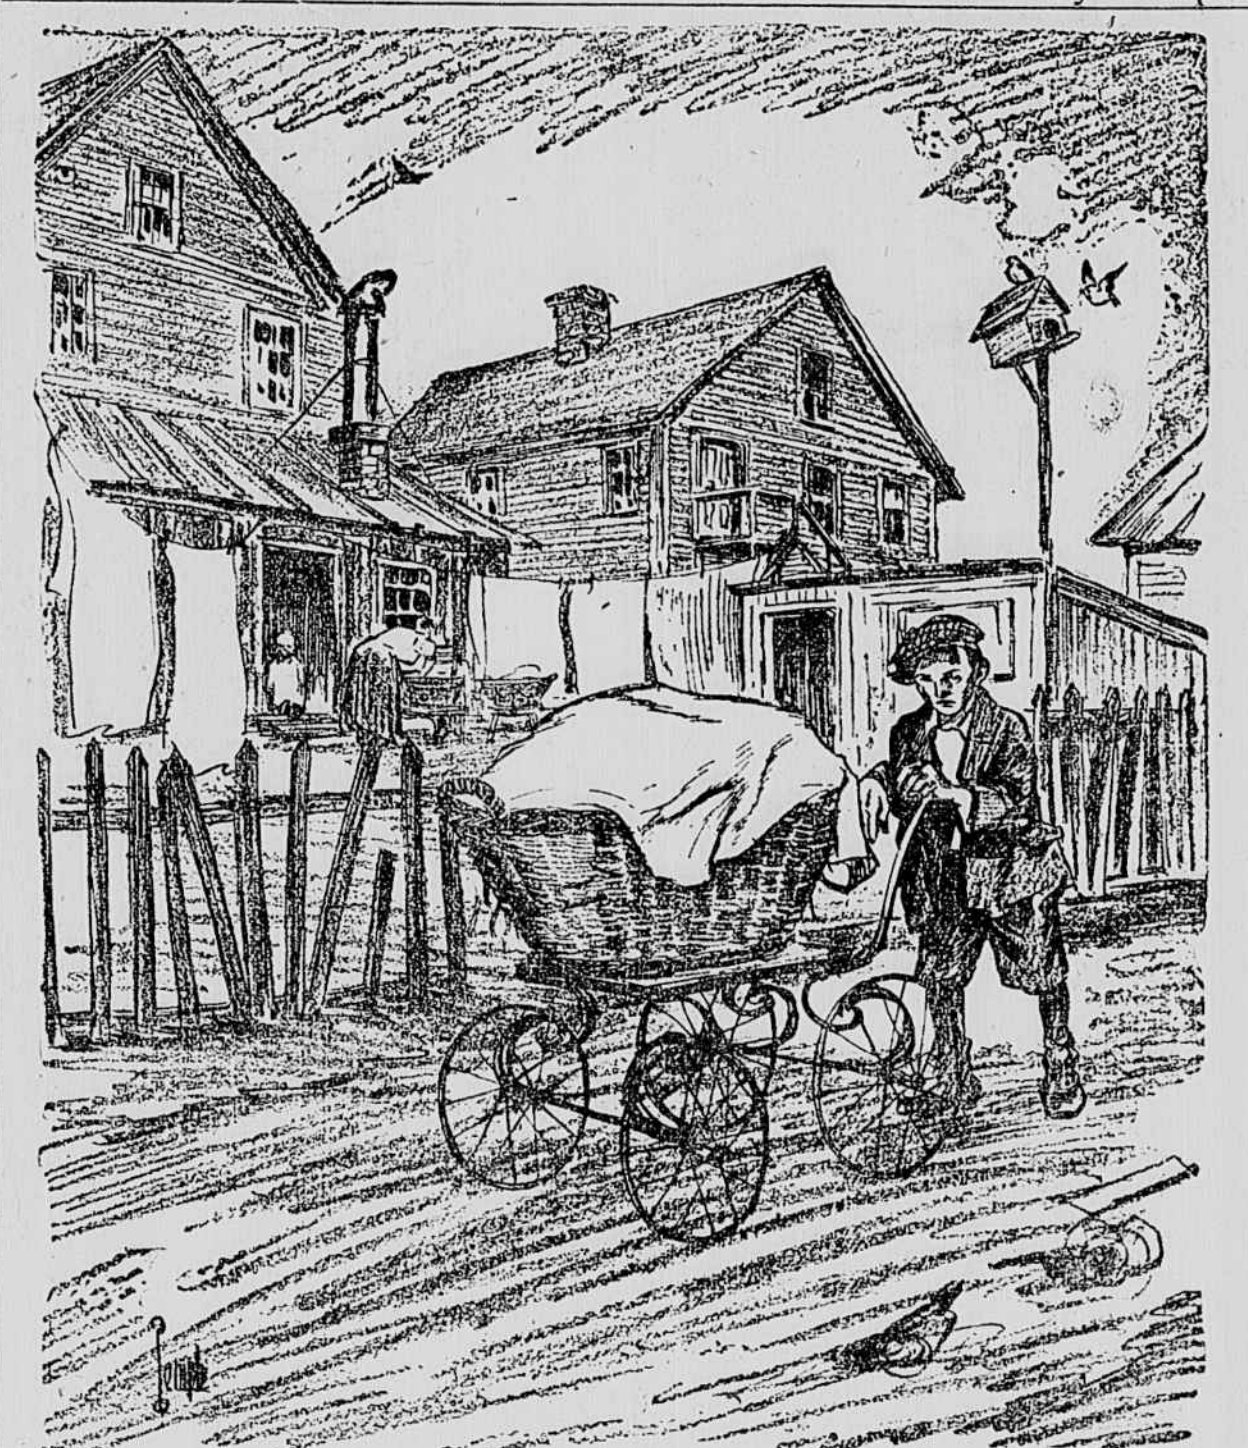

Charged With Nonsupport.

A. D. Voltz, a former member of the police force, was in court yesterday morning on the charge of refusing to provide for his wife and four small children. Justice Crutchfield ordered Voltz to pay his wife the sum of $6 a week or to go to jail for a period of ten days. Voltz pled in appeal, and Charles Traflet went his security to the extent of $200.

Marriage License.

A license to marry was issued yesterday by Deputy Clerk Brecken, of the Hustings Court, to Lazarus Levy and Berie Goldman.

SKETCHES FROM LIFE By Temple

Special Delivery

MANY SIGNERS FOUND INELIGIBLE TO VOTE

Local Self-Government League Scrutinizes Petitions for State-Wide Election.

COMPARES NAMES WITH RECORD

Of One Page Bearing Sixty-Eight Signatures, Twenty-Four Are Said Not to Be Qualified to Vote in Election on September 22.

Examination of the petitions submitted to Governor Stuart asking for the special election on prohibition next September, conducted by the authorities of the Virginia Association for Local Self-Government, reveal the fact that in a large number of cases the petitioners contain the names of persons not eligible to participate in the election.

The fact is regarded by local self-government leaders as in the highest degree significant. With the analysis made by the association, it is stated, the results bear out the statement made by the association on the day following their filing with the Governor, that a considerable proportion of the signers had no legal right to affix their names to the petitions.

The situation was brought sharply to the front in Richmond yesterday by the discovery that on single sheet of one of the petitions, bearing sixty-eight signatures, twenty-four have been declared by the association authorities to be unable to vote in Richmond on September 22. The list was carefully compared with the list of qualified voters on file in the Hustings Court, and the discrepancy became at once apparent. Among the ineligible names are a number who live out of the city and others who are not qualified.

DISCREPANCIES IN OTHER LISTS

Together with petitions containing more than 1,000 names the petition referred to was filed in the Hustings Court with the assurance of a notary public that the signers were eligible and qualified. The fact that a 25 per cent shrinkage has been discovered in a single page of a single petition, in the opinion of the Local Self-Government Association, makes it certain that the remaining petitions, while probably not so highly defective, will reveal marked discrepancies.

The large number of illegal signatures and the marked discrepancy are remarkable in the light of the penalty provided by the law for signing the petitions without right. The act provides:

"If any person shall knowingly and wilfully sign such a petition without being legally qualified to do so, or if any person circulating such a petition shall knowingly and wilfully make a false statement and affidavit to the same, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not less than $5 nor more than $50."

Continued to August 7.

The case of George W. Bullock and Frank Shortell, two white men, charged with assaulting and wounding J. H. Adams and forcing a call for the annual meeting of the division school superintendents of the State, will be heard by Justice Crutchfield on July 29 and 30. No formal hearing is arranged for these meetings, but the case is regarded as very important because the superintendents discuss methods and the welfare of the public schools. Informally, an exchange of ideas for the improvement of the school-teaching service that invariably has brought good results.

Superintendents' Conference.

Superintendents of public instruction P. C. Starnes has issued a call for the annual meeting of the division school superintendents of the State. The meeting will be held in Lynchburg July 29 and 30. No formal hearing is arranged for these meetings, but the case is regarded as very important because the superintendents discuss methods and the welfare of the public schools. Informally, an exchange of ideas for the improvement of the school-teaching service that invariably has brought good results.

Goehland Wants Better Roads.

Governor Stuart will spend to-day in Goehland County. He will meet the board of directors of the State Penitentiary and the Goehland County Board of Supervisors in conference, and hear a proposition to be made by the supervisors looking to the employment of convicts on the highways of the county.

BETTER ACQUAINTANCE PLANS TO BE DISCUSSED

Committee Meets at 10 o'Clock To-day to Go Over Various Details.

ACCEPTANCES ARE COMING IN

Indications Are That Many Southern Buyers Will Be Here as Guests of Trade Extension Bureau of Chamber of Commerce.

Members of the Trade Extension Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce, who are arranging for the reception and entertainment of visitors at the second annual "Better Acquaintance Week," will meet at 1 o'clock this afternoon for the purpose of discussing plans and to attend to several routine business matters. Everything possible is being done by members of the committee to insure the success of the approaching gathering, and indications are that their efforts will be successful to a large degree.

The past few days an average of seventy-five acceptances to invitations have been received each day at the Chamber of Commerce from merchants representing this entire section of country, and indications are that this year will be larger than that of any previous year. It is known that there are many merchants who expect to attend the gathering who have not yet sent in their acceptances to the invitations sent them, and from now until August 10, the first day of "Better Acquaintance Week," acceptances will be pouring in on every mail.

MANY MERCHANTS WILL BRING THEIR FAMILIES.

Traveling salesmen with territories lying in the sections of country served by Richmond markets report that merchants are enthusiastic over the plans which are being made to entertain them here next month, and that many of them are coming to Richmond prepared to spend the entire week. Many of the merchants will bring members of their families with them, and some of them are preparing to bring their entire households.

At the meeting of the Trade Extension Bureau this afternoon, it is thought that several novel features in the way of entertainments will be added to the attractive program for "Better Acquaintance Week," which has already been arranged.

Colored Woman Drops Dead.

Emma J. Green, fifty years old, of 1730 West Leigh Street, dropped dead in her bath yesterday about noon. The woman had just returned from her door at which she had been purchasing melons, to the table at which her three children were seated, when she fell to the floor. Ambulance Surgeon Pitkewitz was summoned, but the woman had been dead several minutes when he arrived.

Building Permits.

Permits were issued yesterday by the Building Inspector as follows: O. D. Brimmer, to build a detached two-story frame dwelling at 117 East Thirteenth Street, $1,500.

Albert Christeller, to build two two-story frame tenements, four dwellings, on the west side of Thirteenth Street, between Q and R Streets, $7,800.

Mrs. M. L. McCabe, to repair brick dwelling at 821 West Grace Street, $1,000.

Belber Fails to Appear

When Case is Called

Bond Furnished by Henry Cohn for Accused Is Declared Forfeited.

Zucker Case Is Postponed

Three Children Placed in Custody of Hebrew Protective Association.

Not Yet Determined Whether They Will Be Returned to Their Father.

Israel Belber, the man bailed by Henry Cohn, Superintendent of City Street Cleaning Department, for his appearance in the Police Court on yesterday to stand trial on a warrant for Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

BELBER FAILS TO APPEAR WHEN CASE IS CALLED

Bond Furnished by Henry Cohn for Accused Is Declared Forfeited.

ZUCKER CASE IS POSTPONED

Three Children Placed in Custody of Hebrew Protective Association. Not Yet Determined Whether They Will Be Returned to Their Father.

Israel Belber, the man bailed by Henry Cohn, Superintendent of City Street Cleaning Department, for his appearance in the Police Court on yesterday to stand trial on a warrant for Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Belber was in Washington, and was not allowed to appear when the case was called, and Justice Crutchfield accordingly declared the bond forfeited, and issued an attachment for him.

It is known that Belber went to Petersburg immediately after being released on bail, and that he secured money and a railroad ticket to Alexandria from friends in that place. Bel